
Environmental policy

This policy applies to all activities undertaken by Wilson Pym May Ltd and impacts upon services and products supplied to our customers.

We are committed to minimising the environmental impact of our office and site based services. In particular, we will achieve this through our commitment to:

- comply with all relevant legislation and regulations;
- regularly review the environmental impact of our activities, endeavour to reduce our overall environmental impact and prevent waste using best practice techniques and continual improvement;
- involve employees in our environmental programme and provide necessary training to enable them to discharge their responsibilities;
- promote the use of environmental best practice as part of any whole lifecycle advice provided to our customer; and
- improve resource efficiency (including our use of water, energy and raw materials).

This policy is publicly available on request.
